another Archangel (likely Gabriel), boost their damage and protect their passive, for a stellar amount of damage! Set 3 2 2 2 Pros Quas is a very powerful ST nuke that has a high crit rate and a strong heal. It is recommended to pair him with demons like Alice to eliminate Phys Anti-Pierce demons that prevent him from sweeping. He is just... so good. He has a 20% buff to his damage, and a 20% buff to his healing. He has a 20% buff to his accuracy, and a 20% buff to his crit rate. He has a 20% buff to his... MP, giving you more flexibility in brands. Be very mindful of battlespeed when using them for Democalypse bosses! If you are outsped by the Boss, it will cause you to lose one round of Debitate, as it ticks down to the end of the Boss' turn! Agni 3 2 2 5 4 Pros Cons Panel 3 is very hard to get as he is Banner exclusive and aiming for P3 isn't necessarily the best choice because dupe Agni serve well in Democalypse. With Panel 2 unlocked, Lord of the Dead also reduces Piercing Physical damage as long as the barrier is up. Goddess' Fan removes all buffs from the opponent and fully debuffs them, swinging the buff advantage in your favor. Notes - Abaddon A 4 1 1 5 Pros Cons His PvP role is as Anti-Phys unit when paired with Allat or Atavaka. Notes Not worth considering for PvP use unless Panel 3. Kusanagi hits extremely hard and autocasts Tarukaja to further buff your team's attack. Weak to Force and Dark. Vahana provides additional Evasion and can stack with other evasion passives like Evade to make him a dodge tank. Cons Her damage is fairly underwhelming due to a low STR stat and lack of any damage boosters in her kit. Goes through Endure as Wrathful Flame is three separate hits. This ends up decreasing his damage, as the Rebellion buff is wasted on the 75BP chain instead of his 130BP (more if levelled) Iron Fist. High AGI makes him awkward to slot in slow teams, despite the great synergy with Alice A. Red gives him access to Tempest Slash +, a souped up version of Tempest Slash that hits harder and ignores Endures. Notes Limited-time Collaboration unit. When paired with demons that have similar timings (like Vairocana and Lachesis), it guarantees a full defensive buff swing regardless of what your opponent runs (Solar skills, Angra Mainyu's Panel 2, etc. Garuda A 3 3 3 5 Pros Brilliant Wings fires a Piercing AOE Force attack every time any of your demons successfully dodges an attack. Notes Due to Alder King's effect timing, it actually procs after most of the enemy's auto-skills have activated. More information on this page Intimidating Stance Teams and Zhong in general. Below average HP and VIT stats. Cons Notes Many PvE enemies including certain Bosses are not immune to curse, making him an insane Debuffer for PvE. Much better Force users exist for PvP. Mozgus 2 2 2 2 2 Pros The only unit in the game that has a Critical Counter, God 1000 Fist Cannon will unleash a random barrage of piercing Phys attacks whenever the enemy scores a crit. She additionally has more revives through a skill in yellow. Throne 2 2 2 1 1 Pros Good AGI stat of 163. Needs to be alive for the unique to work and he's frail.. She can be paired with Rama as a soft-counter to Atropos as she has innate Drain Elec. Missing on the AOE is fine though, as missed chain effects won't consume Press Turns. Requires a good team built around her to work. Mahamadyne in Red does not really resolve the problem. Notes As it is classified as a Recovery skill, the AI will spam Woven Fate to heal HP even if there are no downed demons, wasting the charges. No innate Fire Pierce if not Purple. Cons No innate Pierce means he will have trouble with Repel Physical effects (notably TetraKa Shift), unless you inherit Phys Pierce (weak). The Curse is a great setup for Alice A (and his own passive), while the buffs increase your likelihood of surviving the turn. Hand of Glory provides AOE Curse + Luster Candy on ally death. Has 2 strong AOE spells, 3 if in Red. Purple gives her Infinite Chakra, allowing her to spam Severed Fate repeatedly even while on Spell Brands. Middling AGI and frail. Notes Comprehensively outclassed by Pale Rider as a Venomancer. Notes Unable to be paired with Masakado. Not stand out in PvE barring a few bosses. Cons Subpar bulk. The chip damage helps your main sweeper to clean up, while the Ailments can be used to set up for demons like Alice A and Pale Rider. When paired with P3, this turns into a full defensive buff swing in your favor. Notes Zhong Kui 2 4 4 5 3 Pros Has access to Intimidating Stance a very good skill in PvP. Is very frail thanks to a low VIT and HP stat. This is useful for sweeping lxtab defenses, or protecting your allies from being counterswept by Alice A if you fail to kill them Turn 1. Her Panels provide valuable ailment immunity, making it harder for Ailment Teams to sweep her on revenge. Not to good outside of Democalypse. Incredible synergy with Vile Demiurge - Demiurge helps to fulfill the Vile requirement, while Pales has three Repel and Drain resistances to complement False God and Supreme Creator. Notes Yaksha Claw cannot bind if it gets Nulled, Repeled or Drained. Yinglong Killer has a very high MP cost and cannot be fired off Turn 1. Hecatoncheires 2 3 3 2 1 Pros High STR/VIT/STR Pairs well with slow teams due to having the lowest AGI in the game. If paired with Angra Mainyu, this effectively gives him FULL MP on Turn 1, paving the way for absurd combos like Concentrate into Death Flyers. Panel 4 confers Light Pierce to all Herald and Divine demons in the party. Doesn't have much niche other than being a tanky mage. Cons Having no innate ST skills means he will be walled by Phys Anti-Pierce. Nergal helps to remove any barriers and ensures Plague's poison can land via Weak, which in turn triggers his own Meslamtaea passive. In addition, while Nyarly is alive, all enemies will take 25% additional damage from magic and deal 25% less magic damage, as long as they are affected by Gloom With an absurd four repels, he combos well with Demiurge or Atavaka and he also happens to be a Vile demon, helping him fit with Pales. It also wastes MP in auto, as the AI will cast it when no Ailments are currently active. Notes Gemori 3 3 2 1 1 Pros Cons Weak to Ice unless Teal. Despite how good Orlean Prayer in P3 is, PvP is too fast and each Press Turn is too precious for such strategy to be good in general usage. Cerberus A 4 4 4 3 5 Pros Is the only unit in the game with a skill that gains back a press turn lost to Intimidating Stance, giving him a unique niche on faster teams, and also giving him buff control, reducing their atk/def As Hell Blaze ramps up, it begins to rival the sheer numbers that Koga Saburo's Soaring Blades can put out, for less mp at p2 Pierce in Phys along with his Hell Blaze piercing allows flexibility in avoiding NDR. High MP cost mandates the use of Divine Brands if Panel 2 is not unlocked, which can slightly reduce his damage potential. Notes - Man Eater 2 2 2 1 1 Pros Her unique passive Sass lowers the defense of the team for 3 turns when the enemy is charmed. Missing just one of Rapid Shot's 5 hits results in lost Press Turns. Balanced stats and no weaknesses give him flexibility in transfer skills. Cons Lacks a physical AOE Needs transfers to help his damage output. Divine brands are recommended if using him for PvP Defense. Jeanne d'Arc 3 3 1 1 1 Pros One of better 4* support demons Orlean Prayer can be used to give 3 MP to a demon: in PVP, this can allow some demons to unleash spells they couldn't have T1. Good base stats and no weakness allow him to fulfill a variety of roles, be it support or sweeper. Low AGI but low enough that it's good for slow teams. Cons Weak to Force and Light. Her agi is middling, making her a bit tricky to fit into slow and fast teams. He is the cheapest way to get an auto-buff in your team. Good candidate for the Hell Gongen team as it patches out his biggest weakness - lack of early Phys Pierce. Ryujin Reflection procs an AOE counter whenever your allies receive Physical damage, similar to how Asura shield functions in Battle Tower. Notes The MP drain aspect of Babylon Goblet is less useful for PvE, as the AI has infinite MP. This helps him live long enough to build up the MP necessary for Morning Star. Unimpressive without good teammates. Stiff competition from Motoko Kusanagi who is also pretty much a standalone (heh) ailment package on her own. Needs to run Divines without Panel 2 for first turn Die for Me! and to mitigate long term MP issues. No innate AoE. This makes him a great counter for Fast T1 Teams on offense, as anything short of a full team wipe will result in him coming back to life and reverse-sweeping with double Aztec Pulses. Isn't the best Speedster in PvE due to his Phys weakness... Zaou-Gongen a demon part of the Hell Gongen core, is already slow himself. Not great outside of AG. This is most notable on an Archangels compositions, who previously had to run suboptimal techs like Lakshmi A to avoid being crippled by Give me Jewels. Notes While Bind and Mute might be more powerful on their own, Charm and Curse have more abuseable combos, most notably Lilith A, Alice A and to a lesser extent Panel 3 OG Lilith. Divine brands help with MP costs but reduce his bulk. It also casts Tarunda and Rakunda when it procs. Demonee-Ho 2 2 2 1 1 Pros Desperate Hit deals damage to random enemies at the end of his turn. Silent Prayer in Yellow allows her to act as a Pseudo-Cleric and also removes Barrier, Tetraja, Charge etc. Innate Epitome of Madness and Insanity in Purple, combined with Bemusing Rhapsody's high ailment base chance means he is almost guaranteed to land his ailments, allowing you to forego ailment infliction for other brand stats like Speed instead. Notes - Seraph 3 1 1 2 5 Pros Cons Only obtainable through Democalypse grinding. Combined with innate Merciless Blow, her unique Yomotsu Okami and Elec Amp in Purple, she will decimate anything weak to Elec or Dark. Yellow gives her access to discounted Mahashibaboon, letting her also function as an Ailment inflictor. A high damage unique in the form of Divine Bows' Allure with a chance of charming. He is of special note in democalypse prelim rounds, where he adds a 25% damage boost to the entire team. He is passive in most teams he is in due to lack of Pierce. Both Kusanagi and Mortal Jihad scale from Phys Attack, allowing him to cover two elements decently (albeit without pierce). Innate Back Attack is useful for both AG2 and Democ Cons One of the lowest VIT stats in game and slow to boot. Low VIT. Mana Aid in Clear is very useful for PvE, as it ensures he can spam Rip every wave. Possesses the extremely coveted Repel Force, which makes him a great pair for Repel Pierce units such as Demiurge (for comparison, the only other "generalist" Repel Force demons are Mot and Mastema, as Raphael and Pale Rider only work in specific compositions).
